Genus Technologies.

Located in the heart of Nicollet Mall, the Renaissance Square Office Building—a historic gem originally built in 1898 as The Andrus department store—now serves as a modern office space, complete with a stunning ten-story atrium.

Tanek collaborated with Genus Technologies to design their headquarters within this iconic building, creating a workspace that seamlessly integrates history with innovation. Genus Technologies, a leader in managing complex corporate content and digital assets, now operates in a thoughtfully designed environment that reflects their expertise and forward-thinking approach.

The result? A smart, sophisticated space that's as dynamic as the company it represents.
