The Rune.

This new mixed-use development at the end of Alexandria's historic main street spans nearly an entire block and combines 72 luxury apartments with 30,000–35,000 square feet of commercial space. Constructed with high-quality concrete and steel, the building features a brick exterior complemented by copper and wood bay windows. The first level offers commercial space fronting a vibrant urban plaza along Broadway and 3rd Avenue, while the upper three levels house spacious, upscale residences with a dedicated entrance on Hawthorne Street.

Designed to accommodate diverse needs, the building integrates the site's unique topography, creating a residential feel on one side and a commercial presence on the other. Amenities include a large rooftop deck, a fitness center, a two-story lounge, a party room, and a private connection between residential and commercial spaces. Additional highlights include two full levels of indoor parking, a 5,000-square-foot amenity deck, and a dynamic courtyard plaza, blending functionality with community-focused design.
